

Taylors College, Melbourne : Monash University Foundation Year

NST 22 Oct 2006

Taylors College Foundation Programs are unique, dedicated pathways to three of Australia's prestigious Group of Eight Universities – Monash, The University of Sydney and The University of Western Australia. The three G8 Foundation Programs comprise The Monash University Foundation Year, the University of Sydney Program and the University of Western Australia Foundation Year.

The Monash University Foundation Year, fondly referred to as MUFY is the first of the three G8 Foundation Programs to be established. In fact, Taylors College Melbourne has many firsts. The first Taylors campus was established in Melbourne in 1920. Taylors College today has been at the cutting edge of education. With 86 years of solid experience in providing tutorial support and university preparation education. Its unique approach has made it Australia's leading university preparation college. Taylors College is also the first private institution in Australia to develop the now famous individual Study Guides which were the basis of success for its students. It received its first international student from China in 1925.

Taylors College, Melbourne has a long history of helping students achieve their dreams. From medicine to music, engineering to law, business to education, Taylors has an extensive network of successful alumni all over the world. What makes the Taylors Experience different is the Taylors approach which ensures students' studies are always on track. Students benefit from a flexible timetable which allows for more personalized lessons with individual tutorials. Taylors unique Study Guide system gives students the crucial extra study material to excel in their study. The learning environment is different. At Taylors College, value is placed on maturity, intelligence and determination – qualities needed for academic success at university. All students are treated as adults in a dynamic learning environment.

International students are drawn to Taylors College in Melbourne. Nataly Malyuthina from Russia is studying the MUFY and hopes to do visual arts at Monash University. Wong Wai Leung was the Dux of MUFY 2005, now studying Pharmacy at Monash. Jack Ki Lam from Hong Kong studied the MUFY in 2001 and took Music as a full academic subject. Says Jack Ki, "The quality of staff and facilities at Taylors provide everything you need in order to achieve your goals. Mrs Earle, the Music Director, always made sure we received the highest quality advice and assistance. I still remember the music classes were my most enjoyable time in Taylors. What else can be better than learning in a classroom full of music and laughter!" Jack is now pursuing a Bachelor of Music / Law at Monash University. Avnika Ruparelia, now studying the Bachelor of Medical Science / Bachelor of Science at Monash University recalls her experience as a MUFY student, "The MUFY teachers were awesome. Their passion made the process of studying fun. They made me "want" to study rather than "have" to study using their creative and entertaining methods of teaching."

Taylors is success; it inspires success through a team of teachers dedicated to upholding the trust parents have placed in them. Their academic credentials are built over 80 years of unfaltering teaching, nurturing a community of care and success.

If you are looking to investing in your child's education, consider the option of overseas study at Taylors College Australia.
